

CHRISTIAN HERITAGE ACADEMY

HOMESCHOOL PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

Christian Heritage Academy (CHA) believes parent involvement in education is essential, and we are pleased to partner with Christian families who have chosen to homeschool their middle and high school students. CHA's Homeschool Partnership Program serves the needs of many homeschool families with its highly qualified teachers and full program of course offerings.

Educational Philosophy

Christian Heritage Academy seeks to create a strategic three-way partnership as we come alongside Christian parents and their church to build into the lives of the next generation of believers. We believe that students thrive when their daily educational environment is consistent with the biblical values that are taught at home and at church.

CHA believes that the development of students' biblical knowledge and wisdom is foundational to true education, and our Mission centers on academic excellence through biblical integration in all subject areas. Articulate, mature Christian teachers train our students to think critically and biblically, challenging them to consider, "How does God's Word influence my academic experience?"

All students, particularly in the middle and high school years, need intellectual and spiritual grounding. As teens develop autonomy and in personal identity, CHA's integration of biblical truth in learning enables young men and women to grow in their faith in the Author of life. We desire to ignite a passion for His Word, and to equip students to impact their schools, communities, and the world for the glory of God.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How do we register as a Homeschool Partnership student at Christian Heritage Academy?

Apply online and successfully complete the Christian Heritage Academy admissions process.

Are there a minimum number of courses a student must take? Is there a maximum?

Upper School: A Partnership student must enroll in a minimum of two courses to foster integration into the life of the community.

Middle School: Yes, a Partnership student must enroll for either a full session of morning classes or a full session of afternoon classes.

What is the cost of the Partnership Program?

Upper School: The cost for two classes is $2,000 per class.

Middle School: The cost for either the morning or afternoon session is $1,500 per class, minimum two classes, maximum three. Program and Activity fees will be based upon participation in individual programs. Financial Aid is available to full-time students.

What grade level is a “fit” for the courses offered?

Upper School: Courses are taught at grade level with regular, honors, Advanced Placement and Dual-Credit levels available. Class placement will be determined through assessments, and in partnership with parents, students and administrators.

Middle School: Middle school Partnership applicants may apply for age and grade-appropriate classes, and will be evaluated through assessments and in partnership with parents and administrators.

How will course scheduling work?

Upper School: There may be instances when desired Home School Partnership courses are not offered consecutively during the day. The Partnership student who has enrolled in two or more classes is expected to remain on campus, either in a study hall during openings in his/her class schedule, or by adding a course(s) to create a contiguous block. When available, study hall supervision is offered at a modest charge per semester.

Middle School: Partnership students may enroll for a morning or an afternoon block of classes.

Is it possible for a Partnership student to graduate from Christian Heritage Academy?

No. Only students enrolled full time for their junior and senior years will be eligible to graduation from CHA and receive a CHA diploma. A Homeschool Partnership student may, with Administration approval, participate in commencement exercises and receive a Home School Partnership Certificate of Completion. However, only full-time students are eligible to graduate and receive a diploma.

Are Partnership students eligible to participate in co-curricular activities at Christian Heritage Academy?

Yes! Partnership students in both Middle and Upper School are permitted and encouraged to participate in ongoing school activities, such as school chapels, athletics, music, drama and co-curricular activities that require tryouts (plus activity fees where applicable.) Contact the admissions office for additional details.

Why choose CHA over a community college alternative?

Christian Heritage Academy seeks to develop students' intellect, character, and spiritual growth in the context of academic excellence and biblical worldview. As such, we've chosen to partner with Trinity International University and Colorado Christian University in an exciting Dual Credit program. Qualifying CHA students are eligible to enroll in Dual-Credit courses on our own CHA Northfield Campus, and receive high school and college credit.

By participating in the program through CHA, students are also able to participate in academic and co-curricular programs offered by CHA. Offerings will vary, depending on several factors, including student eligibility and course availability. We anticipate this program will allow fully-participating students to take up to 10 courses over their high school years. Thus, depending on the number of university level classes taken, your student may complete and pay for up to a year of college by high school graduation, saving up to $40,000 or more in college tuition, room, and board.

CHA Homeschool Partnership students are mentored by our Living Curriculum Teachers, in a faith-integrated setting across all subject areas. We have seen students thrive in this environment!
