Sophomore Summer Reading List 2020-2021

Dear Student,

Hello, sophomore, congratulations on completing your freshman year. How does it feel? I'm sure a myriad of positive adjectives are flooding your mind; allow me to interrupt your flow of thought with "YES! Praise the Lord!"

This summer, you will read Animal Farm by George Orwell that will serve as an introduction to English II where we will read allegorical literature, analyze elements of a novel, delve into subtle and not so subtle characterizations, juxtaposition literary movements, and interpret literature through the critical lens of the Bible. After you have traveled to Animal Farm and annotated your thoughts, you'll be ready to engage in a number of different learning activities at the start of the school year-starting with an annotation check. Annotating is evidence that you are actively, thoughtfully engaging with the reading material: react, observe, and connect. ROC the annotations!

I can't begin to tell you how excited I am to have you in class in a few short months. Know that I am available for questions or comments during the summer. My email is listed below. I will be praying for you. Let the reading begin!

Have a blessed summer,

Mrs. Yoo

"When the downtrodden animals of Manor Farm overthrow their master Mr. Jones and take over the farm themselves, they imagine it is the beginning of a life of freedom and equality. But gradually a cunning, ruthless elite among them, masterminded by the pigs Napoleon and Snowball, starts to take control. Soon the other animals discover that they are not all as equal as they thought, and find themselves hopelessly ensnared as one form of tyranny is replaced with another."
